Innovation is the development of a product, service, idea, process, or environment that ultimately yields value or utility. The Leading Transformative Innovation Roundtable is a gathering of intellectually curious people to explore and dialogue about ideas related to the social, scientific, environmental, economic and cultural challenges the world faces today. The roundtable is a multi-disciplinary community of remarkable experts and inquisitive amateurs welcoming all with open minds and committed hearts. Presentations will be highly interactive, featuring engaging papers, concepts, and book reviews by exceptional thinkers, entrepreneurs, activists, and scholars, at the intersection of innovation and leadership. Papers and presentations from an intentionally Biblical perspective are especially welcome. The goal is to inform and energize the conversation among those who use the power of ideas to change attitudes, lives, organizations, and ultimately, the world.
