Greetings!

Welcome to the new edition of JBPL. We remain deeply encouraged by the emerging interest in Biblical research in organizational leadership. This edition continues this quest for the uncovering of Biblical models and theories of leadership. The articles and authors represented in this edition come from diverse backgrounds and make use of many different approaches. We are confident that this edition will not only make unique contributions to the research stream, but also open new avenues for further exploration. We welcome further submissions. A special word of gratitude to our tireless production team and our international review board for all their efforts.

Pax et Bonum,

Corné J. Bekker, D. Litt. et Phil.
Editor
Regent University
Volume 6, No. 1

Representing a diverse group of scholars in Biblical, social-science, historical, and leadership studies, from around the world, the JBPL editorial board aims to provide a much needed multidisciplinary, as well as international perspective on current research and interest in Biblical perspectives in the study of leadership. Each member of the editorial board has been selected because of their published research and focused interest in the exploration of leadership within the Christian scriptures and its application in the many varied contexts around the world.
