Innovation is the development of a product, service, idea, process, or environment that ultimately yields value or utility. The Leading Transformative Innovation Roundtable is a gathering of intellectually curious people to explore and dialogue about ideas related to the social, scientific, environmental, economic and cultural challenges the world faces today. This roundtable is a multi-disciplinary community of remarkable experts and inquisitive amateurs welcoming all with open minds and committed hearts. Presentations will be highly interactive, featuring engaging papers, concepts, and book reviews by exceptional thinkers, entrepreneurs, activists, and scholars, at the intersection of innovation and leadership. Papers and presentations from an intentionally Biblical perspective are especially welcome. The goal is to inform and energize the conversation among those who use the power of ideas to change attitudes, lives, organizations, and ultimately, the world.

The Leading Transformative Innovation Roundtable welcomes the following:

PAPERS

The roundtable chairman welcomes opportunities to discuss potential paper topics, and may be contacted at the address listed below. Papers submitted should be explicitly innovative and not merely summaries of earlier work or mere literature reviews. Papers may be conceptual or speculative, but nonetheless must be fundamentally grounded in theory and experience. Works that integrate a Christian world view into innovation practice are especially welcomed.

Submission Guidelines:

- Papers should be submitted in a Word.doc format and conform to Harvard style (similar to the Harvard Business Review), with appropriate attribution of ALL ideas and quotations made directly in the text. References, endnotes, and in-line citations will not be used in submitted papers.
- All text is to be single-spaced in Arial font with one-inch margins.
• The title page is to include complete contact information for all authors, including mailing addresses, email addresses, and phone numbers. Please make sure that the title is brief and appropriately descriptive of the article.

• The abstract is to be 200 words or less and should be a complete summary of the main findings/points of the manuscript.

• The title of the manuscript should be at the top of the abstract page.

• All writing is to be understandable in other cultures, thereby serving the global innovation community. Examples and analogies must be understandable in numerous countries.

• Nothing in your manuscript file other than the title page should identify the authors. Be sure to erase manuscript "properties" (under FILE in Microsoft Word) prior to submission.

• No appendices are to be included. The body of the manuscript must present all pertinent information.

• The body of the text should be a maximum of 3,000 words. There is no specific minimum word count.

• Proof of copyright clearance for any previously published materials used in the article such as: photographs, tables, charts, graphics, etc. must be provided.

• All tables, figures, and references are to be contained in a single file.

• Include your assurances that the manuscript is original and is not under review at any other journal, newsletter, blog, or website.

• Include three or four keywords that will help us assign the manuscript to appropriate reviewers.

• Your submission will be acknowledged by return email when assigned to reviewers (usually within one week of receipt).

Presentation/Discussion at Roundtable: 30 minutes.

CONCEPT DISCUSSION

Roundtable participants are welcome to lead a concept discussion relative to innovation and leadership. Please submit a 300-word abstract of the proposed concept discussion topic to the roundtable chair. Presentation/Discussion at Roundtable: 15 minutes.
BOOK REVIEW
Roundtable participants are welcome to review and lead a discussion regarding any new book (or article) that substantially informs innovation and leadership. Please submit a 300-word abstract of the proposed book review topic to the roundtable chair. Presentation/Discussion at Roundtable: 15 minutes.

Please remit submissions, questions, and comments to:

The Servant Leadership Research Roundtable provides an insightful time of interaction by scholars interested in the growing field of servant leadership studies. Ideal for both seasoned and novice researchers in the servant leadership field, the Servant Leadership Research Roundtable allows attendees to engage in scholarly discussion of research streams, new models, testing of existing concepts, instrument development and validation, as well as the discussion of servant leadership case studies. This roundtable's aim is to provide a venue in which scholars can serve and help one another critically evaluate and develop research frames and agendas that eventually build the research stream to maturity.
