Admissions_Bonnie	Good evening; thanks for helping us out tonight.	9/22/2008 18:45
Prof_Boland	Hi Natali and Bonnie	9/22/2008 18:45
Greeter_Natali	Hey, Cassy!	9/22/2008 18:46
Greeter_Natali	Thanks for coming tonight. How are you??	9/22/2008 18:46
Alumni_Cassy	Hi Natali! I'm blessed beyond measure! How are you?	9/22/2008 18:46
Greeter_Natali	Doing very well!	9/22/2008 18:47
Admissions_Bonnie	Cassy: It's good to have you back with us again. Do you miss the recruitment trails?	9/22/2008 18:47
Alumni_Cassy	I do, Bonnie. I just spoke with Quinn the other night and we talked about how much fun we used to have!	9/22/2008 18:47
Admissions_Bonnie	Are you in touch with Udoka? How is she?	9/22/2008 18:49
Admissions_Bonnie	Hi Mark; what state are you in tonight?	9/22/2008 18:50
Greeter_Natali	Hi Mark!	9/22/2008 18:50
Alumni_Mark	Look at me, I'm a moderator.	9/22/2008 18:50
Alumni_Cassy	Yes, I am. She is doing well. She's staying extremely busy working and caring for her sister and father.	9/22/2008 18:50
Alumni_Mark	Hello everyone, signing in from Allentown PA tonight	9/22/2008 18:50
Alumni_Mark	How are things back at the office?	9/22/2008 18:51
Greeter_Natali	Thanks for coming tonight, all!	9/22/2008 18:51
DanTheMan	You're welcome!	9/22/2008 18:51
Greeter_Natali	Welcome, Dan! Any questions for us this evening?	9/22/2008 18:51
DanTheMan	Thanks for hosting this; I have many questions! :)	9/22/2008 18:51
Greeter_Natali	Fire away!	9/22/2008 18:52
DanTheMan	Yes, with a price tag around 23k/year, what loan repayment services does Regent have (and what have worked)?	9/22/2008 18:52
Greeter_Natali	(Hi Daniel, thanks for coming!)	9/22/2008 18:53
Student_Daniel	Yep. Glad to be here!	9/22/2008 18:53

FinAid_Tom	Dan, I am unsure of your question. Are you asking how does loan repayment work?	9/22/2008 18:53
DanTheMan	Yes, and what are the service(s)/counseling available to help repress loans (after successful graduation)?	9/22/2008 18:54
Alumni_Mark	I know there are some programs that help students pay back loans who are interested in Public Interest Law.	9/22/2008 18:55
DanTheMan	Hmmm.....	9/22/2008 18:55
FinAid_Tom	Dan, the university does conduct exit counseling re: loan repayment which beigns at 6 mo. after graduation; we also talk about limiting loans -as much as possible- prior to starting law school as well as during.	9/22/2008 18:56
Alumni_Mark	The exit program is very helpful.	9/22/2008 18:56
DanTheMan	Limiting loans... what kind of method would you recommend?	9/22/2008 18:56
DanTheMan	I know scholarships are there, but not always accessible...	9/22/2008 18:56
Greeter_Natali	Hi Kathy--thanks so much for joining in tonight!	9/22/2008 18:57
FinAid_Tom	Mark, we have a LRAP (loan repayment assistance program) for alums in public interest. You should also be aware of CCRA, College Cost Reduction Act, to take affect in July 2009.	9/22/2008 18:57
Career_Kathy	Hello everyone!	9/22/2008 18:57
Alumni_Kerriel	Hi guys!	9/22/2008 18:57
Student_Christina	Hi!	9/22/2008 18:57
Greeter_Natali	Hi Kerriel!	9/22/2008 18:57
Greeter_Natali	Welcome, Dean Brauch--thanks for joining us from FL!!!	9/22/2008 18:57
Alumni_Kerriel	Where in FL?	9/22/2008 18:57
Dean_Brauch	Hi, how are you?	9/22/2008 18:57
Dean_Brauch	St Augustine.	9/22/2008 18:58

Alumni_Kerriel	I'm in Tampa.	9/22/2008 18:58
Dean_Brauch	How has the trip been?	9/22/2008 18:58
Alumni_Mark	Hey Kerriel!	9/22/2008 18:58
FinAid_Tom	Dan, about 75% of all law students receive some law school aid (grant or scholarship); there is also plenty of aid (grants/scholarships) to find.	9/22/2008 18:58
Admissions_Bonnie	Dan, when were you planning to apply?	9/22/2008 18:59
Greeter_Natali	Dan, you may also have heard this motto to live by: "Live like a lawyer during law school, and you'll live like a student when you're a lawyer!" (I'm paraphrasing)	9/22/2008 18:59
Greeter_Natali	Welcome, Greg! How are you this evening?	9/22/2008 18:59
Greg	I am doing fantastically.	9/22/2008 19:00
Alumni_Mark	Hi Greg!	9/22/2008 19:00
Greeter_Natali	Wonderful--do you have any questions for us this evening?	9/22/2008 19:00
Greg	Greetings, Mark.	9/22/2008 19:00
Alumni_Kerriel	Hi Missy!	9/22/2008 19:00
Alumni_Mark	Hi Missy!	9/22/2008 19:00
Greeter_Natali	Welcome, tccunnin! Where are you chatting from tonight?	9/22/2008 19:00
Greg	Nothing in particular. I am planning to attend the Preview Weekend in November.	9/22/2008 19:01
tccunnin	Hi Natali ... I am in Los Angeles.	9/22/2008 19:01
Alumni_Mark	That is a great idea, Greg.	9/22/2008 19:01
Alumni_Kerriel	Great idea! Preview really gives you a chance to see what Regent is all about.	9/22/2008 19:01
Greeter_Natali	So, this afternoon, then! Thanks for joining us.	9/22/2008 19:01
Alumni_Mark	Hi tccunnin, I'll be in Los Angeles in a few weeks.	9/22/2008 19:01
Greeter_Natali	Hi PJ2009! How are you this evening?	9/22/2008 19:01
Alumni_Kerriel	I'm from LA too.	9/22/2008 19:01
tccunnin	Oh yeah ... if you're lucky you'll miss the heat!	9/22/2008 19:01

PJ2009	I am wonderful thanks!	9/22/2008 19:02
Greeter_Natali	Welcome, shrishti!	9/22/2008 19:02
tccunnin	What part, Kerriel?	9/22/2008 19:02
shrishti	Thanks!	9/22/2008 19:02
Alumni_Kerriel	Southeast Los Angeles County, Norwalk.	9/22/2008 19:02
Greeter_Natali	How are you doing?	9/22/2008 19:02
Admissions_Bonnie	Greg: Preview Weekend is going to be very exciting this year. Jay Sekulow will present his final oral arguments to our Preview guests before presenting the next week to the Supreme Court.	9/22/2008 19:02
shrishti	Doing great!	9/22/2008 19:02
shrishti	I had couple of concerns that I would like to address....	9/22/2008 19:02
Alumni_Mark	Welcome back, DanTheMan!	9/22/2008 19:03
Greg	That's what I heard. My wife is very excited to be joining me that weekend.	9/22/2008 19:03
Student_Christina	Greg: I attended Preview before I came here and it gave me a wonderful opportunity to meet with some professors and students and get a lot of my questions answered.	9/22/2008 19:03
DanTheMan2	Sorry, strangely my computer froze....	9/22/2008 19:03
Greeter_Natali	Please ask away, shrishti!	9/22/2008 19:03
Alumni_Kerriel	Go ahead and ask, shrishti, that's what we're here for!	9/22/2008 19:03
Student_Christina	Welcome back, Dan	9/22/2008 19:03
DanTheMan2	Thank you!	9/22/2008 19:03
tccunnin	Nice ... I hear VA is beautiful though it probably can't touch our weather.	9/22/2008 19:03
DanTheMan2	I believe Fin Aid asked when I was applying: mid- to late Dec. is when I plan to apply	9/22/2008 19:03
Alumni_Kerriel	Just different, that's all....	9/22/2008 19:04

Greg	I was speaking with a Regent Law alum last week and he suggested completing my interviews during that weekend. Do I need to make appointments for them?	9/22/2008 19:04
shrishti	I am an international student, and I will be completing a B.S. in Business-Economics....	9/22/2008 19:04
Admissions_Bonnie	Greg, there are no interviews required. Preview is about introducing you to our campus and our programs.	9/22/2008 19:04
shrishti	...and I would like to know if I could apply for the JD program or not?	9/22/2008 19:04
Dean_Brauch	Greg, no need to do interviews, but we are glad to have you meet folks if it would help.	9/22/2008 19:04
PJ2009	I have an admissions question.	9/22/2008 19:05
Alumni_Mark	That is good, Dan, the earlier the better for potential scholarships.	9/22/2008 19:05
Dean_Brauch	Shristi, where are you from?	9/22/2008 19:05
Alumni_Mark	What's your question, PJ?	9/22/2008 19:05
Admissions_Bonnie	shrishti, we welcome applications from international students. Please be sure to visit the international students website for specific instructions. I encourage you to apply in Jan. since you have additional paperwork to complete.	9/22/2008 19:06
PJ2009	i will be taking the LSAT on October 4th; can I go ahead and apply?	9/22/2008 19:06
Greeter_Natali	shrishti: http://www.regent.edu/acad/schlaw/admissions/internationalhome.cfm	9/22/2008 19:06

shrishti	I am originally from Nepal; I came here with my associate degree in health care management.	9/22/2008 19:06
DanTheMan2	I have a question for alumni/students.... and it's a question I ponder endlessly.... Did tier ranking (and Regent's placement in particular) influence your decision? why or why not?...	9/22/2008 19:06
shrishti	I reside currently in Brookings, SD.	9/22/2008 19:06
Admissions_Bonnie	PJ: yes, you may submit your app anytime between October and our priority consideration date, February 1.	9/22/2008 19:06
Alumni_Mark	Good question, Dan.	9/22/2008 19:06
Dean_Brauch	Excellent! We have really seen many more international students in our program in recent years. It has made Regent a much richer place.	9/22/2008 19:07
shrishti	I will be completing my undergraduate program from South Dakota State University.	9/22/2008 19:07
Alumni_Mark	I struggled with that a little bit myself, but finally found peace in the fact that my background/education was NOT going to stop God from placing me where He wants me.	9/22/2008 19:07
Greeter_Natali	Hi Rebecca! How are you this evening?	9/22/2008 19:07
Rebecca	Hello! Thank you for all the info!	9/22/2008 19:07
Dean_Brauch	When do you finish?	9/22/2008 19:08
Greg	I believe that you begin accepting application on 10/15 for next fall. I plan to take the LSAT in December. Should I wait and apply after I take the LSAT?	9/22/2008 19:08
DanTheMan2	That's not trite, Mark! That's a awesome response, thanks!	9/22/2008 19:08

Greeter_Natali	You're welcome! Glad you could come tonight.	9/22/2008 19:08
Student_Christina	Dan: One particular part of Regent's ranking really influenced me . . . Regent is ranked very highly in community life. It was important to me to find a school that had a strong student community. Beyond that, I found that the professors were excellent and had a strong background in legal practice and were committed to helping the students learn the law.	9/22/2008 19:08
shrishti	Okay, great, thanks!	9/22/2008 19:08
Alumni_Cassy	Dan: For me, tier ranking mattered. However, it did not matter as much as finding a place that FIT me. I think it's really important to find a law school that is a good fit for you. Also, as Mark said, God is going to place you where He wants you to be whether you graduate from Harvard, Regent, or high school!	9/22/2008 19:08
Alumni_Mark	I also saw my time as Regent as helping to build the Regent reputation toward a higher ranking.	9/22/2008 19:08
Alumni_Kerriel	Amen, Mark! That's how I felt. Sure I looked at the rankings, but the bottom line is that the way the rankings are done mean that Regent, regardless of our amazing accomplishments, is not likely to become a top tier school simply because of the politics of the process.	9/22/2008 19:08

Admissions_Bonnie	Greg, you may submit your app before you actually take the LSAT. You may indicate a 'future' test date on your app. We'll wait until we get your score to review your file.	9/22/2008 19:08
shrishti	Do you have any scholarships that I could qualify for?	9/22/2008 19:08
FinAid_Tom	Shrishti, yes, we do award scholarships to international students.	9/22/2008 19:09
Dean_Brauch	shristi, yes, we have a scholarship specifically designed for international students. We also have a lot of financial aid in general--about $2.8Million in scholarships each year.	9/22/2008 19:09
DanTheMan2	Thank you all! That really helped to reignite my fervor to apply--seriously, thanks!	9/22/2008 19:10
Greeter_Natali	Dan, it's also good to keep in mind that tier ranking is 40% subjective (law professors, etc. across the country).	9/22/2008 19:10
shrishti	When would be the right time to take LSAT?	9/22/2008 19:10
Admissions_Bonnie	shrishti, Oct or Dec would be best, but ONLY if you're prepared fully.	9/22/2008 19:11
Career_Kathy	Also, despite rankings and tiers, our placement rates are continuing to grow yearly--placing students all around the world in firms, organizations and judicial clerkships. The 2007 class was our top class for both judicial clerkships and overall placement. We are still figuring the stats of the class of 2008.	9/22/2008 19:11
shrishti	(If I plan to apply to Regent for Fall09.)	9/22/2008 19:11
Student_Daniel	I took the LSAT in December, and it worked well for me.	9/22/2008 19:11

Alumni_Mark	I've found, Dan, that in past symposiums, when we've have gotten professors/administrators from other schools to our campus, they come away quite impressed with our school.	9/22/2008 19:11
Admissions_Bonnie	shrishti, yes.	9/22/2008 19:11
shrishti	Okay, great.	9/22/2008 19:11
Student_Christina	Shrishti: I took the LSAT in February and it worked out, but I think December would be a better date.	9/22/2008 19:11
Prof_Boland	Dan, I graduated from Regent. I felt that God was calling me here and did not even consider other law schools, and God has been faithful in placing me here as a Professor, which I did not expect when I applied. So, I would suggest you follow God's leading and leave the rest to Him.	9/22/2008 19:11
Dean_Brauch	Dan, Kathy is right. Last year, 10% of the graduating class received judicial clerkships!	9/22/2008 19:11
Alumni_Kerriel	I also highly recommend that you come to Preview Weekend if at all possible. That really gives you the full picture of the community at Regent. Your decision is a huge one and you want to make sure that you are in a place that will help you grow. Like Cassie said, it's about fit.	9/22/2008 19:12
tccunnin	To any of the students and/or alumni ... what do you think you were least prepared for in your first year?	9/22/2008 19:12
shrishti	How competitive is getting admission at Regent?	9/22/2008 19:12

Admissions_Bonnie

Our Admissions Committee considers many factors when identifying the entering class for the upcoming year, including LSAT, GPA, mission harmony to Regent University, the personal goal statement, letters of recommendation, and life experiences. Our Committee seeks to enroll men and women who are academically qualified and who are committed to the mission of the School of Law. Our expected averages are LSAT: 153; cumulative undergraduate GPA: 3.32. ☒

9/22/2008 19:13

The committee considers all LSAT scores when reviewing an application, however, the highest score is most heavily weighted.

Hi srvsdlee! Welcome!!

9/22/2008 19:13

A good (christian) buddy of mine reminded me that "If a potential employer either mocks or passes me over for a job because of going to a 'religious' school, I should not want to work there." I believe we, as Christians, are undermined because of our faith and I struggle with the possibility that if I attend Regent, I will acquire much debt just to be ridiculed completing for top legal jobs... any insights?

9/22/2008 19:13

Student_Daniel

tccunnin - I wasn't prepared for the amount of work required that first year (and particularly the first semester).

9/22/2008 19:13

Student_Christina	tccunnin: I graduate with a B.A. in History, so I thought I knew what it was like to have a lot of reading. What I wasn't prepared for was how long it took to read a 20 page assignment!	9/22/2008 19:13
Alumni_Cassy	Tcccunnin: I think I was least prepared for the amount of time it would take for me to keep up with the work.	9/22/2008 19:14
Alumni_Mark	Well, tccunnin, law school is very much like learning a new language; every word is a "term of art" as they say.	9/22/2008 19:14
Greeter_Natali	Hi, Hudson! How are you this evening?	9/22/2008 19:14
Alumni_Mark	Early on your assignments take a little while, but you get quicker and better at knowing what to look for, and understanding what's going on.	9/22/2008 19:15
Student_Daniel	The good news is that it does get better. You get more efficient, and the workload becomes more manageable. It's difficult, but very rewarding.	9/22/2008 19:15
hudson shrishti	I'm doing good, and yourself? Would this be a big deal to get accepted if one is not Christian?	9/22/2008 19:15 9/22/2008 19:15
Dean_Brauch	Dan, it has been great to see employment doors open very wide to our grads. The work of past alumni has made it very hard for firms to ridicule.	9/22/2008 19:15
Alumni_Mark	Black's Law Dictionary will be one of your best friends!	9/22/2008 19:15
Greeter_Natali	Doing well! where are you chatting from tonight?	9/22/2008 19:15
Alumni_Mark	Brilliant minds, Student Dan, brilliant minds....	9/22/2008 19:15
DanTheMan2	That's AWESOME Dean_Brauch, thanks!	9/22/2008 19:15

Career_Kathy	Dan, there are many students that are interning and alumni who are working with firms all over and there are many qualities and experiences that have placed them there such as working hard, maintaining good grades, gaining summer experience, etc. Doors have definitely been opening due to the rigor of the education and commitment to excellence.	9/22/2008 19:15
PJ2009	How soon after acceptance will fin aid award letters be sent?	9/22/2008 19:15
FinAid_Tom	Dan, you need to look at law school as an investment (in financial terms). I can say that less than 1% of all our grads default on loans; that is an amazing figure--God has blessed our grads.	9/22/2008 19:15
Student_Daniel hudson	Yep :) From Atlanta.	9/22/2008 19:15
Greeter_Natali	Great! Any questions for any of us tonight?	9/22/2008 19:16
Admissions_Bonnie	We are a Christian law school, and we seek to admit others who are seeking a biblically integrated legal education. Our classes begin with a period of prayer and devotion.	9/22/2008 19:16
DanTheMan2	You guys are amazing! Thank you so much.	9/22/2008 19:16

Alumni_Kerriel	One of my classmates is the new clerk for the Chief Justice of the VA Supreme Court, as is another of our alumni this year alone. The thing is, our accomplishments speak for themselves...for example beating out Harvard for the ABA National Moot Court Competition in 2006! The ranking system is subjective, but that is an objective finding!	9/22/2008 19:16
FinAid_Tom	PJ, if you qualify for academic merit, those notifications are sent within 2 weeks from acceptance. Others law school awards require our application - www.regent.edu/lawfinances	9/22/2008 19:16
tccunnin	That is good news, Daniel	9/22/2008 19:16
sanpine89	hfgjh	9/22/2008 19:17
sanpine89	dfsdfsdf	9/22/2008 19:17
FinAid_Tom	Also, we only make awards to accepted students	9/22/2008 19:17
Greeter_Natali	Hi, sanpine89! Welcome to the chat!!	9/22/2008 19:17
Alumni_Mark	Welcome, sanpine!	9/22/2008 19:17
hudson	I want to know what are the credentials for entering the law program. I currently have a BBA in Marketing from Georgia State University '04 and I have been in sales and marketing since I graduated.	9/22/2008 19:17
sanpine89	Thank you--sorry about the text above; my little sister was touching the keyboard!	9/22/2008 19:17
Greeter_Natali	:)	9/22/2008 19:17
Alumni_Mark	lol	9/22/2008 19:18
Greeter_Natali	How are you tonight!	9/22/2008 19:18
sanpine89	Great--how are you?	9/22/2008 19:18
Student_Christina	Haha . . . Glad you and your sister could join us.	9/22/2008 19:18

tccunnin	Is it realistic to think (since we know the courses we will take as a 1L) that I can study in the months preceding law school and get a grasp on key concepts, cases, etc. to gain an advantage?	9/22/2008 19:18
Alumni_Mark	Where are you signing in from, sanpine?	9/22/2008 19:18
Greeter_Natali	Doing very well!	9/22/2008 19:18
FinAid_Tom	Sanpine89, that is funny -I was trying to figure out what the letters meant!	9/22/2008 19:18
sanpine89	From Miami, FL	9/22/2008 19:18
Career_Kathy	That would have taken awhile Tom!	9/22/2008 19:19
Alumni_Mark	Very nice.	9/22/2008 19:19
FinAid_Tom	Sanpine89, Did Kerriel and I met you on Saturday?	9/22/2008 19:19
Alumni_Mark	Hi Kathy!	9/22/2008 19:19
Student_Christina	tccunnin: I asked that question before coming to law school and I was advised to take the summer off and rest. It was the best advice I ever got. However, there are books that some people read to try to prepare for the law school experience.	9/22/2008 19:19
Dean_Brauch	tccunnin, I don't think it is really important to try to get a jump on 1L courses; I'd simply come in rested and eager to start.	9/22/2008 19:19
sanpine89	I'm not sure...	9/22/2008 19:19
Prof_Boland	tccunnin: Studying ahead is an idea many students have, but it is not really that helpful. You need to be here and in class to understand.	9/22/2008 19:19
FinAid_Tom	Sampine89 -at the LSAC Law Forum downtown?	9/22/2008 19:20

Dean_Brauch	tccunnin, I once knew a student who read all of Black's Law Dictionary the summer before law school. I think he should have read a novel instead!	9/22/2008 19:20
sanpine89	Oh yes, I think so!	9/22/2008 19:20
Alumni_Mark	Wow, talk about a dedicated student!	9/22/2008 19:20
tccunnin	Thanks for the insight ... I plan on submitting my resignation from work a few months early ... I think I would much rather spend my last days on the beach reading John Grisham novels anyway. :)	9/22/2008 19:21
FinAid_Tom	Sanpine89, Good, thanks for stopping to see us and now joining us to chat!	9/22/2008 19:21
Student_Christina	tccunnin, I think that will be a much better summer!	9/22/2008 19:21
Prof_Boland	tccunnin: the beach sounds like a good plan!	9/22/2008 19:22
tccunnin	For some of the students/alumni, what are the best non-law related lessons your profs ever taught you?	9/22/2008 19:22
Alumni_Kerriel	Don't forget to read Randy Singer too....he's one of our adjunct profs and an acclaimed author. He's considered to be the Christian John Grisham.	9/22/2008 19:22
sanpine89	My pleasure!	9/22/2008 19:22
DanTheMan2	There are two schools in VA that interest me based on Christian intergrated education, Liberty and Regent... as a hungry Christian yearning for both a quest to learn more about Christ in a profound manner and utilize these acquired skills in the law profession, why Regent (over Liberty)?	9/22/2008 19:22

tccunnin	I will definitely look into Randy Singer! Thanks for the recommendation.	9/22/2008 19:22
Alumni_Mark	tccunnin, I actually formed a pretty good relationship with one of my favorite professors, and we meet on a regular basis.	9/22/2008 19:23
Alumni_Mark	He has been a good sounding board for job advice and for prayer requests.	9/22/2008 19:23
DanTheMan2	Oh, I think I forgot to formally introduce myself; I'm Dan from Wisconsin and I am a Crim Justice/Chemistry double major looking to enroll in the Fall of '09.	9/22/2008 19:23
FinAid_Missy	Dan, I'm from Wisconsin too!	9/22/2008 19:23
Alumni_Mark	...so is our Dean!	9/22/2008 19:24
Student_Daniel	Dan: I'm not familiar with Liberty's law program, but I would advise you, first and foremost, to seek God's direction regarding which He would have you to attend.	9/22/2008 19:24
DanTheMan2	Yea?! Nice, what part?	9/22/2008 19:24
DanTheMan2	Whoa!	9/22/2008 19:24
FinAid_Tom	Dan, you sound like a CSI kind of guy....	9/22/2008 19:24
Alumni_Kerriel	"By Reason of Insanity" is his latest book, and I have to confess it's my favorite!	9/22/2008 19:24
Student_Christina	tccunnin, that's a hard question to give one answer to. We have devotions before class and I meet with a lot of my professors outside of class. They have given me a lot of advice and prayer support on everything from friends and family to career choices.	9/22/2008 19:24

Greg	I do have a question. I graduated with my BA in Business about 4 years ago and have not kept in contact with any of my professors. How important is the faculty recommendation?	9/22/2008 19:24
Prof_Boland	Dan: As Director of the Legal Analysis and Writing Program, I would say our program is a very good reason to chose Regent (pat on my own back). Also, we are accredited fully.	9/22/2008 19:24
Dean_Brauch	Dan, I won't tell you anything negative about Liberty. We have lots of friends there. I think the length of time Regent has been around is helpful. We have a strong alum network; we have strong international programs and other things you can develop with more time.	9/22/2008 19:24
FinAid_Missy	Dan, I'm from Mt. Horeb, but lived in Madison the last few years.	9/22/2008 19:24
Career_Kathy	Dan--from a career perspective I know that Regent has had the ability to make contact with many more firms and judges due to being around longer and having a larger alumni base.	9/22/2008 19:24
DanTheMan2	Nice! yeah, I lived in Madison for a year while working in Radio (WZEE).	9/22/2008 19:25
Admissions_Bonnie	Greg, we waive the faculty recommendation for applicant who has graduated five years ago or more.	9/22/2008 19:25

Alumni_Kerriel	I also think it's important to understand that Regent is fully accredited--Regent Law School received full accreditation by the American Bar Association in 1996; provisional accreditation in 1989.	9/22/2008 19:25
Dean_Brauch	I grew up in Waunakee--10 miles north of Madison.	9/22/2008 19:25
Alumni_Cassy	tccunnin: I had to sit and ponder your question for a moment. I don't have one particular non-law related lesson in particular that I learned. But I can say this--I know that I grew SO MUCH as a Christian at Regent. I know that I could not have gotten the support to do that anywhere else.	9/22/2008 19:25
Greg	Bonnie: I saw that on your website. But as I graduated 4 years ago, does that mean I still need one?	9/22/2008 19:26
FinAid_Missy	Dan and Dean Brauch, it sounds like we were all relatively close neighbors!	9/22/2008 19:26
Admissions_Bonnie	Yes Greg, you'll need to try your very best. It is a requirement for consideration.	9/22/2008 19:26
tccunnin	Thank you, Cassy.	9/22/2008 19:27
DanTheMan2	That's awesome that we have some Wisconsinites in the room!	9/22/2008 19:28
Greg	Thank you all for your time. I hope to see you during Preview Weekend.	9/22/2008 19:28
Alumni_Mark	Thanks for stopping by, Greg.	9/22/2008 19:28
DanTheMan2	Thanks again for your input (especially from the students)!	9/22/2008 19:28
Greeter_Natali	Hi, archerSD! Welcome to the chat.	9/22/2008 19:28

tccunnin	Like Dan, I should introduce myself ... perhaps the name tccunnin won't look that great on my degree ... I'm Tionna from LA (born in Chicago) ... I graduated with a Business Admin degree from Pepperdine.	9/22/2008 19:28
Alumni_Mark	You're welcome, DanTheMan!	9/22/2008 19:28
Student_Christina	You're welcome, Dan!	9/22/2008 19:28
Alumni_Kerriel	Bye Greg, see you then!	9/22/2008 19:28
Alumni_Mark	Hello, archer!	9/22/2008 19:28
DanTheMan2	Nice! I was, at one point, considering Pepperdine.	9/22/2008 19:29
archerSD	Hello, all!	9/22/2008 19:29
Greeter_Natali	How are you this evening, archer?	9/22/2008 19:29
Student_Christina	Hello, archer!	9/22/2008 19:29
Alumni_Mark	Hello, srvsdlee!	9/22/2008 19:29
tccunnin	Really ... Pepp is an incredible school! Where did you end up going?	9/22/2008 19:30
DanTheMan2	Students, how is the housing for law students?	9/22/2008 19:30
Alumni_Kerriel	You will get a good law school education at almost any law school. HOWEVER, I like to think (as Dean Brauch says) that Regent is Law Plus. We have so many other unique opportunities and a well-rounded student life.	9/22/2008 19:30
archerSD	I'm absolutely wonderful! And you?	9/22/2008 19:30
Greeter_Natali	Doing great!	9/22/2008 19:31
Greeter_Natali	Welcome, ts81!	9/22/2008 19:31
DanTheMan2	I'm actually not accepted to any school yet, but Pepperdine was once on my list of schools to apply, but not anymore.....	9/22/2008 19:31
Student_Christina	Dan, I live off-campus and I love it. A lot of my friends have had very good experiences with University Housing as well.	9/22/2008 19:31

Alumni_Kerriel	Housing: Regent students may choose from a variety of housing options. Regent Village offers quality housing at affordable rates! Two- and three-bedroom options (with amenities) and a family-friendly atmosphere, about three minutes from the law school. Our newest housing option, Regent Commons, opened in August 2007, offers fully furnished one-bedroom, studio, and four-plex apartments. The Commons amenities include cable, wireless access, and an exercise room. At either location, you can use the University Shuttle. Law students interested in off-campus housing will find numerous options in the area, varying in price and amenities. For more info, visit: http://www.regent.edu/campuses/vb/village/offcampus.cfm AND http://www.regent.edu/acad/schlaw/admissions/housing.cfm	9/22/2008 19:31
DanTheMan2	Christina, would you say that you're saving money by living off-campus as opposed to on-campus?	9/22/2008 19:31
Student_Daniel	Dan, I also live in apartments off-campus (but only five minutes away). I've heard nothing but good things from those who live in the University's housing.	9/22/2008 19:31
Greeter_Natali	Those new to the chat, please feel free to ask any question you may have! We have representatives from Admissions, Financial Aid, Career Services, Faculty, as well as current students & alumni!	9/22/2008 19:32

Alumni_Mark	Dan, the on-campus housing can be hard to get into right away, so get to it early if you're interested.	9/22/2008 19:32
tccunnin	Oh, OK, considering Pepp law ... I really considered their MBA program.	9/22/2008 19:32
Alumni_Mark	You can save money if you get a few roommates to go in on a place with you.	9/22/2008 19:32
DanTheMan2	Ahhhh, thanks for the tip Mark--noted!	9/22/2008 19:32
tccunnin	I think I remembered reading that exams cannot be taken on Macs ... Is there any news of Regent becoming more Mac friendly?	9/22/2008 19:32
Greeter_Natali	Dan, my husband is a 3rd year law student, & we found that the student housing was a bit less expensive than the rest of the area--we love it!	9/22/2008 19:33
Alumni_Mark	I lived both on- and off-campus, and I like the on-campus because it was so close.	9/22/2008 19:33
Alumni_Kerriel	Well, if you have a Mac, you simply write your exam....	9/22/2008 19:33
FinAid_Tom	Dan, the University budgets students the same amount for housing, regardless if it is on- or off- campus. The budget for housing is a "conservative" average.	9/22/2008 19:33
Student_Daniel	I think that you can take the tests on Macs. I'm not sure how, but I know some students who did it last year.	9/22/2008 19:33
Admissions_Bonnie	Dan, you may apply for housing as soon as you've been accepted and pay your seat deposit.	9/22/2008 19:33
Alumni_Mark	I know a lot of people in my class had Macs.	9/22/2008 19:33

FinAid_Tom	Dan, single students are budgeted with the expectation that they have roommates to share the total cost.	9/22/2008 19:34
Alumni_Mark	Hello ts81, where are you signing in from?	9/22/2008 19:34
Student_Christina	I have a Mac and I took my tests on the computer	9/22/2008 19:34
DanTheMan2	Do you know if certain people get preference when applying for University housing other than applying early?	9/22/2008 19:34
FinAid_Missy	Dan, the University also has a list of other affordable places off-campus, if you don't end up getting into on-campus housing. The housing department can get that to you.	9/22/2008 19:35
ts81	Atlanta, GA.	9/22/2008 19:35
Admissions_Bonnie	Dan, I believe there is priority consideration for international students and students who have special needs.	9/22/2008 19:35
Alumni_Mark	Very nice; I have some good friends in Warner Robbins.	9/22/2008 19:35
Student_Daniel	Welcome, ts81!	9/22/2008 19:35
DanTheMan2	Sounds good, thank you all! This is great!	9/22/2008 19:35
Student_Christina	tccunnin: I switched to a Mac second semester of my first year and I haven't had any trouble at all.	9/22/2008 19:35
tccunnin	Is there anyone that can describe the attempt to balance leadership roles in campus organizations with the academic demands?	9/22/2008 19:35
Alumni_Kerriel	Well, I think I can speak to that. I was the President of the Christian Legal Society Regent Chapter my 3L year.	9/22/2008 19:36

Alumni_Mark	Sure tcc, I participated on SBA (Student Gov for the law school), and it did take some balancing, but it was a also a fun way to serve my fellow students.	9/22/2008 19:36
Dean_Brauch	tccunnin, I am amazed by what our students accomplish. The academics have to be #1, but I am impressed everyday by the leadership and involvement of the students. It is one of the things I love here.	9/22/2008 19:36
Alumni_Mark	...and Kerriel did a great job too!	9/22/2008 19:36
Alumni_Kerriel	It's just like other things in your life, prioritize, stay organized, don't procrastinate. But my biggest recommendation is to keep the Sabbath.	9/22/2008 19:37
Alumni_Mark	HERE HERE!	9/22/2008 19:37
Student_Christina	tccunnin: The first year I scaled back on my activities outside of academics and church. This year I have had more of an opportunity to get involved in things outside of classes. (And Kerriel was awesome!)	9/22/2008 19:37
Alumni_Kerriel	God's example to us is to work 6 days and rest for one.	9/22/2008 19:37
Greeter_Natali ts81	Amen to that! I actually started at Fort Valley State Univ. not too far from Warner Robins. I stay in McDonough which is about 1hr and 30mins away.	9/22/2008 19:37 9/22/2008 19:37
Student_Christina	By the way Kerriel - I'm working on that this year!	9/22/2008 19:37
tccunnin	That's great, thank you!	9/22/2008 19:37

DanTheMan2	My next question.... safety. I'm currently at a urban public school (UWM) and safety has been a rising issue (students getting robbed late at night, the destitute trolling on campus, etc.). Is that a issue at Regent? and how is it handled?	9/22/2008 19:37
Alumni_Kerriel	Outstanding, C!	9/22/2008 19:37
Alumni_Kerriel	We have our own on-campus police department now that the law in VA changed.	9/22/2008 19:38
Alumni_Mark	Very nice ts81; do you have any specific questions for a former student? ;)	9/22/2008 19:38
Alumni_Kerriel	It's very safe.	9/22/2008 19:38
Greeter_Natali	The campus police also drive through the student housing parking lots frequently, so I feel safe there too!	9/22/2008 19:38
Dean_Brauch	We have had almost no crime on campus.	9/22/2008 19:38
DanTheMan2	:)	9/22/2008 19:38
shrishti	I would like to know how long the admission process is?	9/22/2008 19:38
sanpine89	That's good to hear!	9/22/2008 19:38
shrishti	...and do we need to attend any interview?	9/22/2008 19:39
FinAid_Missy	Dan, you will find that UWM is completely different than Regent. UWM is in a much more urban area and Regent feels quite small town. It's a very safe campus and area around campus.	9/22/2008 19:39
Admissions_Bonnie	shrishti, once our application file is complete, we will render a decision in approximately two weeks. For international students, there are additional processes involved.	9/22/2008 19:39
DanTheMan2	Great, 'cause I like small town.	9/22/2008 19:39
Alumni_Mark	Dan, it's also a campus where everyone watches out for one another.	9/22/2008 19:39

Admissions_Bonnie	No interview is required. Your personal statement functions as your interview with our admissions committee.	9/22/2008 19:39
shrishti	What other documents do you need from international students?	9/22/2008 19:39
Alumni_Mark	It's a great place to be!	9/22/2008 19:39
DanTheMan2	... and I like the idea of my faith not being challenged by natural sci professors, lol....	9/22/2008 19:40
Alumni_Mark	Good evening Rachael, welcome!	9/22/2008 19:40
Greeter_Natali	Hi Rachael! How are you this evening?	9/22/2008 19:40
Rachael	Good, thanks.	9/22/2008 19:40
Admissions_Bonnie	shrishti, there are a number of requirements listed on the international website. Regarding the admissions app, the TOEFL is also required.	9/22/2008 19:40
Alumni_Kerriel	Back to the Sabbath...what I mean by that is not religious legalism, but actually setting time aside each week to worship the Lord and rest from your studies. You will be a much more efficient student and God will reward your faithfulness. You're also not so burned out because you can push yourself a lot harder when you know you have a day off coming.	9/22/2008 19:40
Alumni_Mark	Where are you signing in from, Rachael?	9/22/2008 19:41
Rachael	Massachusetts	9/22/2008 19:41
Alumni_Mark	oh, I was just there, in Wenham, at Gordon College.	9/22/2008 19:41
Rachael	I had a few questions...	9/22/2008 19:41
Rachael	Oh yeah?	9/22/2008 19:41
ts81	Alumni_Mark ...Is it possible to balance work and the law program?	9/22/2008 19:41
Alumni_Mark	Certainly!	9/22/2008 19:41

sanpine89	Does this school give out tours?	9/22/2008 19:42
shrishti	I will have completed my Undergraduate from the U.S.; do you still need TOEFL score?	9/22/2008 19:42
Rachael	Is the law degree available on-line, or on-campus only?	9/22/2008 19:42
Admissions_Bonnie	sanpine89, please do consider a visit to our school.	9/22/2008 19:42
tccunnin	I've heard for certain schools once you graduate if you work at a non-profit you can get help paying off any loans ... is Regent one of these schools? What are the requirements of this program?	9/22/2008 19:42
Alumni_Mark	ts81, I took the advice of others and took my first year just to focus on my studies.	9/22/2008 19:42
Greeter_Natali	sanpine, you can call our Admissions office at 757-226-4584 to set up a visit, complete with tour, sitting in on a class, meeting with financial aid, etc.!	9/22/2008 19:42
Alumni_Mark	after I got a feel for the work load, I ended up getting a part time job at the law library on campus, and found it manageable.	9/22/2008 19:42
Dean_Brauch	Rachael, we are on-campus only. The ABA is pretty restrictive about distance ed.	9/22/2008 19:42
Alumni_Kerriel	All ABA accredited schools require on-campus study.	9/22/2008 19:43
Admissions_Bonnie	We have two exciting events coming up. Our Oct. 3 Open House will feature Distinguished Professor John Ashcroft and VA Supreme Court Chief Justice Hassell.	9/22/2008 19:43
sanpine89	I would love to, but do you need to make an appointment or are there certain days I can go?	9/22/2008 19:43

Alumni_Mark	ABA has requirements actually that a full time law student cannot work more than 20 hrs a week anyhow....	9/22/2008 19:43
Rachael	How many years does it take to complete the degree?	9/22/2008 19:43
Greeter_Natali	sanpine, you can call our Admissions office at 757-226-4584 to set up an appointment at your convenience.	9/22/2008 19:43
Career_Kathy	We do have a loan assistance program for those who work in public interest and qualify.	9/22/2008 19:43
Admissions_Bonnie	In November, Jay Sekulow will present his Supreme Court oral argument one week before he actually delivers the argument in Washington, D.C.	9/22/2008 19:43
Dean_Brauch	The program takes 3 years full-time; 4-5 part-time.	9/22/2008 19:43
archerSD	Could someone shed some light on transitioning from a lifestyle of working and providing to possibly taking a year off?	9/22/2008 19:44
sanpine89	Okay, great, thank you.	9/22/2008 19:44
DanTheMan2	Is dispute resolution an option at Regent?	9/22/2008 19:44
Alumni_Mark	Does that help, ts81?	9/22/2008 19:44
ts81	How does it take to complete a dual degree program?	9/22/2008 19:44
Student_Daniel	I also did not work my first year, and I am very glad that I was able to make that choice. You want to make the best grades possible your first year.	9/22/2008 19:44
Dean_Brauch	ts81, most of our joint degree programs are 4 years--you get a masters and JD.	9/22/2008 19:45
Greeter_Natali	ts81, most Joint Degrees add on one extra year; the M.Div. is a bit longer, I believe.	9/22/2008 19:45
DanTheMan2	Dispute resolution in healthcare in particular.	9/22/2008 19:45

Rachael	What are the required Bible-based courses?	9/22/2008 19:45
Alumni_Mark	That includes summers for the joint degree.	9/22/2008 19:45
Student_Daniel	archer: going from working full-time to law school full-time was only difficult in the sense that law school full-time was much more demanding!	9/22/2008 19:46
Greeter_Natali	Christian Foundations of Law is required for first year students.	9/22/2008 19:46
DanTheMan2	"Christian Foundations of Law"? The title just sounds awesome!	9/22/2008 19:46
Alumni_Mark	Rachael, it's a great course, the book for which is written by our own Dean Brauch.	9/22/2008 19:46
Dean_Brauch	Rachael, we have a required course called Christian Foundations of Law. It looks at Scripture--but also history and philosophy. It is a course about the kind of legal thinking that influences law and public policy. Lots of wide open discussions.	9/22/2008 19:46
tccunnin	Daniel, although I haven't taken my first class yet, I may argue that my current job at a church may be just as demanding as school	9/22/2008 19:47
Prof_Boland	Dan - yes, we have excellent clinical programs, and negotiations and mediation in particular, but I'm not sure about the healthcare aspect per se.	9/22/2008 19:47
shrishti	I would like to know--I will have completed my undergraduate study from the U.S, so do I still need to take TOEFL?	9/22/2008 19:47
Student_Daniel	DanTheMan2 - That was one of my favorite courses.	9/22/2008 19:47
archerSD	thanks..bye	9/22/2008 19:47

ts81	Alumni _Mark, it helps. Is there a part time program?	9/22/2008 19:47
Admissions_Bonnie	shrishti, then you would be granted a TOEFL waiver.	9/22/2008 19:47
DanTheMan2	Thank you Boland... what about mock trial competitions... does it have a large interest pool at Regent?	9/22/2008 19:48
Admissions_Bonnie	Our part time students typically graduate in four years.	9/22/2008 19:48
Alumni_Mark	There is a part time program.	9/22/2008 19:48
DanTheMan2	Yeah, Daniel, it sounds like it's spiritually fulfilling.	9/22/2008 19:48
shrishti	Thank you for answering my queries.	9/22/2008 19:49
Student_Christina	Dan: All first year students have to participate in a Moot Court competition. After that we have a Trial Advocacy Board, Moot Court Board, and Alternative Dispute Resolution Board - all with competitions.	9/22/2008 19:49
shrishti	I will be applying for Fall09.	9/22/2008 19:49
DanTheMan2	I can't thank you all enough; it's amazing!	9/22/2008 19:49
Rachael	Are there any other required intro classes?	9/22/2008 19:49
Alumni_Mark	There is a part time program, but you have to work your schedule around when the classes you need are offered.	9/22/2008 19:49
shrishti	Thanks...bye!	9/22/2008 19:49
Dean_Brauch	shristi, great!	9/22/2008 19:49
Prof_Boland	Dan: yes, we have a trial advocacy team that competes at other school and also in school classes and competitions. Also, other teams - Moot Court and ADR.	9/22/2008 19:49
Student_Daniel	Yes, and it's very different from the other first-year courses in that there is a lot of class discussion.	9/22/2008 19:50

Alumni_Mark	Rachael, the required classes after that are your typical law classes, Crim Law, Contracts, Property, etc.	9/22/2008 19:50
Dean_Brauch	Rachael, the whole first year is basically required--at almost all law schools.	9/22/2008 19:50
DanTheMan2	That's awesome, Daniel!	9/22/2008 19:51
Alumni_Mark	Then you have a great number of other classes to pick from . . . whether it's in an area of law you're interested in, or just think the class will be interesting.	9/22/2008 19:51
tccunnin	How is a student's success in the Academic Success Program measured?	9/22/2008 19:51
Student_Daniel	I was actually quite glad that the first-year is pre-determined. The first year is stressful enough without having to try to figure out which courses to take!	9/22/2008 19:51
Rachael	Are you able to get your degree finished faster by taking summer courses?	9/22/2008 19:51
Dean_Brauch	Yes, some can finish in 2-1/2 years with summer classes.	9/22/2008 19:52
Alumni_Mark	The summer classes offered are somewhat limited.	9/22/2008 19:52
Student_Christina	Rachael, there are a lot of students that take classes during the summer, including study abroad courses in Israel and France.	9/22/2008 19:52
Alumni_Mark	I did take summer classes which did help me have a lighter last year when applying for jobs and preparing for the bar.	9/22/2008 19:52
ts81	I plan on enrolling in Fall 2010, is there anything I can do in the meantime to prepare myself for law school?	9/22/2008 19:52
Dean_Brauch	The summer programs are really great.	9/22/2008 19:52

Prof_Boland	There are also quite a few upper level required courses (for bar prep). But also opportunities to explore your own interests.	9/22/2008 19:52
Dean_Brauch	You want to make sure you use summers also to get some legal experience; that is important in the job search.	9/22/2008 19:53
Alumni_Mark	ts81, I would say if you're still in school, take classes that are going to help develop your writing skills.	9/22/2008 19:53
Career_Kathy	You can also complete externships--where you get credit for doing internships and gain practical legal experience.	9/22/2008 19:53
Prof_Boland	ts81: Law School has a lot to do with good reading skills and time management.	9/22/2008 19:53
Alumni_Mark	Also, if you have not taken the LSAT yet, maybe pick up a puzzles/logic games book to begin getting your mind in gear for the logic games section of the LSAT.	9/22/2008 19:53
Alumni_Kerriel	I would also recommend that you take difficult classes like philosophy, logic, hard sciences. Classes that make you think.	9/22/2008 19:54
Rachael	I'm graduating from an undergrad school this spring... I heard that there is a summer study abroad program at Oxford--Is that open to undergrad students only?	9/22/2008 19:54
ts81	Well I graduated in '04 with a BBA in Marketing from Georgia State University. I'm currently looking at writing courses at Emory University.	9/22/2008 19:54
Dean_Brauch	The Oxford program is run by our (graduate)Government School-- but Law students can go too.	9/22/2008 19:55

Alumni_Mark ts81	Ah, I graduated in '04 too. I have been studying for the LSAT. Any other tips?	9/22/2008 19:55 9/22/2008 19:55
Alumni_Cassy	tcccunnin: I was in the ASP. If I remember correctly (it seems so long ago), you meet with a professor towards the end of the semester to go over your outlines for your classes and to help ensure that you are preparing for exams. If you achieve a certain GPA, after a certain amount of time, your success is not "monitored" anymore.	9/22/2008 19:55
Dean_Brauch	ts81--lots of practice tests under timed conditions.	9/22/2008 19:55
tcccunnin	And do you feel it really helped?	9/22/2008 19:56
Student_Christina	ts81: Take lots of practice tests, but in the process make sure you know why your answers are correct and why they are wrong. That will really help you to prepare.	9/22/2008 19:56
ts81	Do you recommend LSAT prep courses?	9/22/2008 19:56
Student_Daniel	Along those lines, when you get an answer correct on the practice test, take the time to go over why you got it correct. Too often people skip that step.	9/22/2008 19:56
Alumni_Cassy	Yes! I have to say, I am SO GLAD that I was chosen for the ASP. I can't explain how much of a jump start I got from it. I remember, during the first week of school, there were lots of students that were VERY nervous. Because of ASP, I felt prepared and ready to go on the first day of classes!	9/22/2008 19:57
Alumni_Mark	Christina is right--take as many practice exams as possible.	9/22/2008 19:57

Admissions_Bonnie	ts81, Regent offers an LSAT prep course in the fall (just completed) and spring (March).	9/22/2008 19:57
DanTheMan2	Regent, you are so awesome! Seriously, I was pumped to apply when I heard that there are actually Christian Law schools out there (and are not diploma mills-lol), but I let the pressure to explore a more secular law school route get chirped in my ear (which I come to find out is absolutely not spiritually healthy) and from that I lost enthusiasm for Regent... You guys just helped to revitalize my interest in not only attending wanting to attend Regent, but now yearning to be apart of the fellowship..... THANK YOU ALL!!!	9/22/2008 19:57
Student_Christina	ts81: Prep courses can be beneficial for some people. If you aren't able to take a prep course there are a lot of really good books to help you prepare.	9/22/2008 19:57
Alumni_Mark Alumni_Kerriel	You're welcome, Dan! But make sure you do the exams under TIMED conditions. It's imperative to simulate the exam as closely as possible to help you understand the fatigue, etc.	9/22/2008 19:58 9/22/2008 19:58
Student_Daniel	You're very welcome, Dan. Hope to see you on campus sometime!	9/22/2008 19:58
Dean_Brauch	That's great, Dan. I have been teaching here for 14 years; I can tell you it is a great environment.	9/22/2008 19:58
ts81	What is a typical day for a first year law student?	9/22/2008 19:58

Career_Kathy	Dan, we hope you can come to campus sometime so we can meet you! It is an incredible place.	9/22/2008 19:58
tccunnin	Which track is most popular?	9/22/2008 19:58
Alumni_Mark	ts81, I ended up getting some books myself and studied without a course, but a course is definitely helpful if you're not a very motivated person.	9/22/2008 19:58
Alumni_Cassy	Dan: If I had to do it all over again, there's nowhere else I would go!	9/22/2008 19:58
Alumni_Mark	Hello Jes, welcome!	9/22/2008 19:59
Greeter_Natali	Welcome, Jes! How are you this evening?	9/22/2008 19:59
Student_Christina	ts81: Also, when you practice under timed conditions try to do some tests with background noise and some in complete silence. You never know what conditions you'll have when you go to take the test.	9/22/2008 19:59
archerSD	I've enjoyed the chat and thanks a bunch for your assistance in helping me to get familiar with Regent Law.	9/22/2008 20:00
Prof_Boland	ts 81: probably 3-4 of classes per day and then a lot of studying in between and in the evening.	9/22/2008 20:00
Alumni_Kerriel	lol! Like my exam at USC with the famous USC marching band practicing next door!	9/22/2008 20:00
Greeter_Natali	If you have any additional questions, please feel free to call or email! lawcounselor@regent.edu	9/22/2008 20:00
Student_Christina	I heard about that!	9/22/2008 20:00
Greeter_Natali	757-226-4625 (I'm the Admissions Counselor)	9/22/2008 20:00
ts81	A CD came with the LSAT book with timed tests and online access to tests.	9/22/2008 20:00
Student_Daniel	A typical day . . . starts early and ends late!	9/22/2008 20:00

Admissions_Bonnie	At William & Mary last year, the fire alarm kept going off during the LSAT.	9/22/2008 20:01
tccunnin	You're right Christina ... I took the LSAT at a hotel room that was part of the converted parking garage without walls separating the parking structure ... and a Harley Davidson convention was in town!	9/22/2008 20:01
Dean_Brauch	tccunnin, lol!	9/22/2008 20:01
Student_Christina	ts81: That's great if you can print out the tests. The LSAT is a written test you and you want to make sure that you get used to filling in lots of bubbles.	9/22/2008 20:01
Student_Christina	tccunnin: I'm so glad that wasn't my experience!	9/22/2008 20:01
tccunnin	Tell me about it!	9/22/2008 20:02
tccunnin	Which of the tracks tend to be most popular?	9/22/2008 20:02
Alumni_Mark	Well all, I am afraid I have to hop off here a little early.	9/22/2008 20:02
Student_Daniel	Have a good night, Mark!	9/22/2008 20:02
tccunnin	Thanks for your help, Mark.	9/22/2008 20:02
Admissions_Bonnie	Thanks Mark; safe travels to you in PA.	9/22/2008 20:02
Alumni_Kerriel	Bye, Mark! We miss you!	9/22/2008 20:02
Dean_Brauch	Bye, Mark. Thanks!	9/22/2008 20:02
Student_Christina	Bye, Mark.	9/22/2008 20:02
Greeter_Natali	No problem--thanks for coming!	9/22/2008 20:02
Alumni_Cassy	Good night, Mark!	9/22/2008 20:02
FinAid_Missy	Bye Mark!	9/22/2008 20:03
Alumni_Mark	Good to chat with you all! Look forward to meeting some of you new students in the future!	9/22/2008 20:03
Prof_Boland	tccunnin, We have a lot of Virginia students and we encourage them to take the Virginia track. Other than that, I'm not sure.	9/22/2008 20:03
Alumni_Kerriel	I took the Public Interest track.	9/22/2008 20:03

Greeter_Natali	tccunnin, if you look at what students do when they graduate, many simply go into private practice (which can cover a big range).	9/22/2008 20:03
Dean_Brauch	tcunnin, I think the General track (basic courses for any state and bar exam) and Dispute Resolution are pretty popular	9/22/2008 20:03
ts81	What about scholarship opportunities? How far in advance do you need to apply to be considered for scholarships?	9/22/2008 20:03
Alumni_Kerriel	...including the ACLJ Washington DC semester which was TOTALLY amazing!	9/22/2008 20:04
tccunnin	How is it when Regent grads compete for jobs at larger well-paying firms ... are they all on the same playing field?	9/22/2008 20:04
Dean_Brauch	ts81, we offer a lot of scholarship $--about $2.8Million per year.	9/22/2008 20:04
FinAid_Tom	ts81, you can apply for scholarship anytime (even prior to admission), but we only award after/if admitted.	9/22/2008 20:04
ts81	How much does an average student have to come up with out of pocket for expenses?	9/22/2008 20:05
Career_Kathy	Many things are considered in students applying for jobs at all types of firms. Large firms are very competitive by nature; however, Regent has been opening many doors in both firms and judicial clerkships.	9/22/2008 20:05

Dean_Brauch	tccunnin, as a relatively young school, there was a time we struggled to have firms take a look at our students. That is changing fast. Our alums have been doing a great job and opening doors for the students of today.	9/22/2008 20:06
Career_Kathy	We have numerous alums working in large firms.	9/22/2008 20:06
tccunnin	Do these firms tend to be more local or have you seen students have success in the larger metropolitan areas?	9/22/2008 20:06
FinAid_Tom	ts81, typically, most students are covered by a combination of scholarship plus law loans. Though we try to limit borrowing, if needed fed student loans usually cover the total cost of attendance.	9/22/2008 20:07
Dean_Brauch	tccunnin, one other really good sign--last year 10% of our grads received judicial clerkships. Those are opening doors to positions in firms. They also show the confidence that employers are putting in our students.	9/22/2008 20:07
ts81	What type of career counseling does the law program provide? Post Graduation?	9/22/2008 20:07
Career_Kathy	Both--many of our alums practice at private firms so there is an array of firms. Also, many of our students are not from Virginia so they are practicing all over.	9/22/2008 20:07
tccunnin	That is excellent!	9/22/2008 20:07
tccunnin	Knowing me, I'll end up right back where I'm working now post law school, but you never know!	9/22/2008 20:08

Dean_Brauch	ts81, we have a great career office. Kathy can tell you more. But she and the career team work with students throughout their time at Regent.	9/22/2008 20:08
Career_Kathy	In the Career Services office we offer one-on-one career counseling daily, numerous professional development programs, career panels, and on-campus interviews. We also have the ability to match students with alumni for mentor relationships.	9/22/2008 20:08
Alumni_Kerriel	And afterward too! The Career & Alumni Services office is great!	9/22/2008 20:08
tccunnin	Within 6 months following graduation, what percentage of students are employed?	9/22/2008 20:09
Student_Christina	Career & Alumni Services has been wonderful!	9/22/2008 20:09
Career_Kathy	We like to say we also come with a "lifetime warranty" because we counsel alums daily as well! Just today we provided an alum with a mock interview and reviewed another's resume.	9/22/2008 20:09
tccunnin	You can't beat a lifetime warranty!	9/22/2008 20:09
Dean_Brauch	We report 9 months after graduation. For class of '07 (the last full numbers we have), the rate was 92%.	9/22/2008 20:09
Career_Kathy	We calculate 9 months out (it is a standard for all law schools).	9/22/2008 20:09
tccunnin	That's excellent!	9/22/2008 20:10
Career_Kathy	This also takes into account that there are a few students that decide not to pursue employment after graduation (perhaps to have children, etc.).	9/22/2008 20:10

ts81	Ok. I'm excited about applying to Regent's in the fall of 2010, hopefully sooner. But I will be at the campus tour in Macon, GA. Thanks for this online chat and responses to my questions.	9/22/2008 20:11
Dean_Brauch	Bye, ts81. Hope to see you in class someday!	9/22/2008 20:11
Greeter_Natali	Thanks for coming!	9/22/2008 20:12
Student_Christina	Bye!	9/22/2008 20:12
Student_Daniel	Have a great night, ts81!	9/22/2008 20:12
sanpine89	How many people get accepted into the program??	9/22/2008 20:13
sanpine89	How many classes do you take in a part time program vs. full time program?	9/22/2008 20:13
ts81	Me too, I can't wait! I know in my heart this is my calling. Hope to see you soon. Good Night!	9/22/2008 20:13
Alumni_Kerriel	Good night!	9/22/2008 20:13
Admissions_Bonnie	We start out with over 5,000 prospects and this year we began 144 students.	9/22/2008 20:14
Prof_Boland	Sanpine: the first year, part-time students take one less class.	9/22/2008 20:14
Admissions_Bonnie	The part-time program is usually pretty small and many wind up transferring to the full-time program after the first year.	9/22/2008 20:14
sanpine89	Are there day time or evening part time programs?	9/22/2008 20:14
Admissions_Bonnie	The part-time students fold into the same classes as our full-time students.	9/22/2008 20:15
Prof_Boland	Day classes, either on a morning or afternoon schedule.	9/22/2008 20:15
Alumni_Kerriel	Oh yeah, ts, read Romans 11:29 it says: "For the gifts and the calling of God are irrevocable!"	9/22/2008 20:15

sanpine89	I am hispanic and a women and from Florida; what type of scholarship can I be eligible for?	9/22/2008 20:15
FinAid_Tom	sanpine89, scholarship is mostly determined by your academic profile; however, we do strongly consider minority students for a variety of scholarships/grants.	9/22/2008 20:17
FinAid_Tom	sanpine89, you should also check into other scholarships for Hispanic students -there are many and can be used at Regent.	9/22/2008 20:18
sanpine89	Okay, thank you.	9/22/2008 20:18
Admissions_Bonnie	Sanpine89, from an admissions perspective, let me add that we highly value diversity in the classroom. I invite you to visit campus to meet with some of our professors and students. Professor Michael Hernandez would also be happy to speak with you via telephone or e-mail. 757.226.4000 or michher@regent.edu	9/22/2008 20:18
tccunnin	Are pets allowed in on-campus housing?	9/22/2008 20:18
Admissions_Bonnie	No pets in housing I'm afraid.	9/22/2008 20:19
Greeter_Natali	No, they are not (maybe fish) :)	9/22/2008 20:19
ts81	Alumni_Kerriel: Thanks for the Scripture!	9/22/2008 20:19
tccunnin	I can't say I blame you.	9/22/2008 20:19
Greeter_Natali	There are several nearby apt. complexes, though, that may...	9/22/2008 20:19
sanpine89	Okay, great--I will give him a call. Do you know when he is available?	9/22/2008 20:19
Admissions_Bonnie	Can't speak to his schedule, but you can inquire via e-mail first if you like.	9/22/2008 20:19
sanpine89	Okay, I will.	9/22/2008 20:20

Admissions_Bonnie	We haven't talked about any study abroad programs (France, Spain, Korea, England, Israel). Dean Brauch, can you give us an update on China?	9/22/2008 20:21
Student_Daniel	tccunnin - we found a great apartment only five minutes away that allows a pet (we have a cat).	9/22/2008 20:21
Dean_Brauch	Sure. We are days away (finishing the agreement) from a student exchange program with Shantou Univ in China.	9/22/2008 20:21
Student_Christina	I've been waiting to hear if a program to China was still a possibility!	9/22/2008 20:21
Dean_Brauch	Yes!	9/22/2008 20:22
Student_Christina	Is there a tentative plan for how long the program is going to be?	9/22/2008 20:22
tccunnin	That's great, Daniel ... did you already know your roommate(s) prior to beginning?	9/22/2008 20:22
Dean_Brauch	At first, classes for Regent students there may be in the summer. They will offer them in English--for those of you who don't know Mandarin!	9/22/2008 20:22
sanpine89	I have letters of recommendations: two from professors, one from my church leader, and one from my employer. Are four letters of recommendations too much?	9/22/2008 20:23
Student_Daniel	Oh, I'm married, so, actually, yes, I knew my roommate quite well!	9/22/2008 20:23
tccunnin	Is the program in Spain in English?	9/22/2008 20:23
tccunnin	Haha ... Well, that helps a great deal!	9/22/2008 20:23

Dean_Brauch	I don't know yet, Christina, about the length. It will be a several week summer program most likely.	9/22/2008 20:23
Admissions_Bonnie Student_Christina	Sanpine, four would be fine. I'm looking forward to that program.	9/22/2008 20:23 9/22/2008 20:23
tccunnin	Does the financial aid apply to summer/international programs?	9/22/2008 20:23
Dean_Brauch	We also have summer programs in France and Israel and semester abroad programs in Korea (in English) and Spain (in Spanish).	9/22/2008 20:24
Greeter_Natali	tccunnin, once an admitted/deposited student you can utilize The Branch, a student/staff listserv that some people use to find roommates, sell things, etc.	9/22/2008 20:24
FinAid_Tom	Tc, most student acquire summer loans for the study abroad programs.	9/22/2008 20:24
Dean_Brauch	tccunnin, sorry, no English yet in the Spain program.	9/22/2008 20:25
tccunnin	Maybe I need to just become fluent in Spanish!	9/22/2008 20:25
Alumni_Kerriel Dean_Brauch	Si! One student spent this last year in Barcelona and loved it.	9/22/2008 20:25 9/22/2008 20:26
tccunnin	I bet!	9/22/2008 20:26
tccunnin	Are all of the faculty required to be Christians?	9/22/2008 20:27
Dean_Brauch tccunnin	tccunnin, yes. Upon what denomination is Regent founded?	9/22/2008 20:27 9/22/2008 20:28
Dean_Brauch	It is critical if we are going to carry out the school's mission--and I will tell you that to a person the faculty is committed to the mission of training leaders to serve Christ and others.	9/22/2008 20:28
Dean_Brauch	The school is nondenominational.	9/22/2008 20:29
sanpine89	That is great.	9/22/2008 20:29

tccunnin	Is the school president pretty involved and visible in the life of the body?	9/22/2008 20:29
sanpine89	I love the vision of your school...that is the most important thing to me.	9/22/2008 20:30
Dean_Brauch	The president is certainly involved, though not really on a day to day basis. I find that he is more the person who sets the vision for the university. He is a guy who believes in rigor and excellence in the school.	9/22/2008 20:30
sanpine89	If I have about 1005 words in my personal statement and I know that your requirement for the words is 500-1000. Will I be penalized for that?	9/22/2008 20:31
Alumni_Kerriel	Unlike some other denominational schools, Regent has a wide variety of Christians from various denominations represented. I was quite impressed by that. We all come from the same mission-focused desire to become "Christian leaders to change the world" but we're quite a diverse student body.	9/22/2008 20:31
tccunnin	It is very evident that a community has been created and thrives in the life of the law school ... is there this same community between students in the various schools?	9/22/2008 20:31
Admissions_Bonnie	Sanpine, 500-1000 is the guideline. 1005 will be acceptable, without penalty.	9/22/2008 20:31
sanpine89	Thank you so much.	9/22/2008 20:32
sanpine89	I had to incorporate the questions that Regent targeted.	9/22/2008 20:32

Alumni_Kerriel	While you become very close to the students, faculty and staff from the law school (primarily because of the intensity and amount of time spent with them) the wider university is a great community of believers. Like most everything else in life, it's up to you if you want to become involved in the greater Regent community.	9/22/2008 20:33
Admissions_Bonnie	Yes, you did. It's important to address Regent's specific questions.	9/22/2008 20:33
tccunnin	The campus sounds safe; what about the surrounding area?	9/22/2008 20:33
sanpine89	Thank you-what are the options in regards to paying for Regent?	9/22/2008 20:33
Admissions_Bonnie	Rachael: any burning questions we can answer for you?	9/22/2008 20:34
Dean_Brauch	Virginia Beach is a really safe community. We have raised 4 kids there with almost no safety concerns at all.	9/22/2008 20:34
Alumni_Cassy	tccunnin: I agree with Dean Brauch. Virginia Beach is a safe place to live.	9/22/2008 20:35
FinAid_Tom	Sanpine89, are you asking in regard to paying for the cost of attendance, or on-campus housing--or something else specifically?	9/22/2008 20:35
sanpine89	I would be an out-of-state student, if God willing I am accepted.	9/22/2008 20:37
tccunnin	What are the closest area churches?	9/22/2008 20:37
sanpine89	I suppose everything, hah.	9/22/2008 20:37
Student_Daniel	Best Life ranked Virginia Beach as the #2 in its list of best places to raise a family!	9/22/2008 20:37
FinAid_Tom	Since we are a private school, tuition is the same for all.	9/22/2008 20:37

Alumni_Cassy	tccunnin: There are SO many churches in Virginia Beach!	9/22/2008 20:37
Student_Christina	tccunnin: There are tons of great churches in the area!	9/22/2008 20:38
Dean_Brauch	tccunnin, there are an amazing number of churches--good ones--close.	9/22/2008 20:38
Alumni_Kerriel	Thanks for posting that, Daniel...i was trying to remember exactly what it was called!	9/22/2008 20:38
sanpine89	Thank you FinAid_Tom.	9/22/2008 20:38
sanpine89	If I had to work while going to law school, does the law school have job placements?	9/22/2008 20:38
sanpine89	By working at Regent Law in any department is there a tuition reimbursement or some type of program?	9/22/2008 20:38
Career_Kathy	We post openings for local legal organizations where you could work over the school year and various other positions for faculty and other offices.	9/22/2008 20:39
Career_Kathy	Dean Brauch even has a graduate assistant or two!	9/22/2008 20:39
Dean_Brauch	I do!	9/22/2008 20:39
Admissions_Bonnie	Admissions also hires a GA or two each year.	9/22/2008 20:39
FinAid_Tom	Regent has student positions posted via Central Fin Aid website.	9/22/2008 20:39
sanpine89	What is the ratio between professors and students?	9/22/2008 20:40
FinAid_Tom	We do have tuition remission as well; the specifics can be found via the university website	9/22/2008 20:40
tccunnin	How is the diversity of the VA Beach community?	9/22/2008 20:40
Dean_Brauch	By ABA calculations (a really Byzantine formula!) we are 18-1. We have approximately 30 full time profs (including people like me who both teach and do administration).	9/22/2008 20:41

Alumni_Cassy	Virginia Beach is pretty diverse. It's a large community. Also, there are a lot of military bases in the area, so there are lots of different types of people here.	9/22/2008 20:41
Admissions_Bonnie	I haven't heard diversity statistics about the VA Beach community, but our incoming class was of 23% ethnic diversity this fall.	9/22/2008 20:42
sanpine89	Let's say one does not have a "median LSAT" score, but has great work experience and has an "okay" GPA and LSAT, what are the factors that Regent considers?	9/22/2008 20:42
Admissions_Bonnie	Regent considers LSAT, GPA, writing ability, letters of recommendation, ethnic diversity, and mission harmony. Academic indicators will be very important however.	9/22/2008 20:44
sanpine89	Thank you, Bonnie.	9/22/2008 20:45
sanpine89	Does Regent like everything to be submitted via LSDAS?	9/22/2008 20:46
sanpine89	Are there any Summer Conditional Programs at Regent?	9/22/2008 20:46
Admissions_Bonnie	You may apply via the LSAC e-app or directly to the school, whichever you prefer. You may use their letter of recommendation service as well. Our summer program is for students who are admitted via that window. Students do not "apply" for that program.	9/22/2008 20:47
Greeter_Natali	We have about 15 minutes left in the chat, so if there are any remaining burning questions, please get them out there!	9/22/2008 20:47
Prof_Boland	Sanpine89: what do you mean by conditional programs?	9/22/2008 20:47

Admissions_Bonnie	We do not offer any performance based admission programs (PBAP's).	9/22/2008 20:48
sanpine89	I have a friend who went through a conditional program, which had about 20 students (not-accepted) and they enrolled in about 2 classes and were evaluated like a mini-semester.	9/22/2008 20:49
sanpine89	...and whoever does best, gets accepted into the school.	9/22/2008 20:49
tccunnin	I greatly anticipate coming to Regent. I've heard nothing but good things from everyone I work with ... I was admitted for 08 but deferred to 09 ... I plan on coming out to visit for the spring shindig so hopefully I will meet some of you then!	9/22/2008 20:49
Prof_Boland	Like Bonnie stated, we do not offer this type of program.	9/22/2008 20:49
Greeter_Natali	That's great, tccunnin! For Preview in March?	9/22/2008 20:49
Dean_Brauch	It will be great to meet you tccunnin!	9/22/2008 20:49
Alumni_Kerriel	Great tc, I look forward to meeting you then.	9/22/2008 20:50
sanpine89	Okay, thank you.	9/22/2008 20:50
sanpine89	That is great, Tccunnin!	9/22/2008 20:50
Greeter_Natali	Welcome, reb2!	9/22/2008 20:50
Greeter_Natali	what questions do you have this evening?	9/22/2008 20:50
Alumni_Kerriel	Hey reb2! welcome, any questions for our last 10 minutes?	9/22/2008 20:50
sanpine89	What is the deadline for application for fall 2009?	9/22/2008 20:50
Admissions_Bonnie	Please apply for Fall 2009 by February 1.	9/22/2008 20:51
sanpine89	Is it based on a rolling admissions?	9/22/2008 20:51

Admissions_Bonnie	Yes, rolling. Our admissions committee will render first-round decisions in early January; perhaps a few early decisions in December.	9/22/2008 20:52
Greeter_Natali	sanpine, for more info on our Academic Success Program being discussed earlier, see our website: http://www.regent.edu/acad/schlaw/academics/academicsuccess/ASPHome.cfm	9/22/2008 20:52
tccunnin	Hopefully Preview in March! have a great evening!	9/22/2008 20:52
Greeter_Natali	You too!	9/22/2008 20:52
FinAid_Missy	Have a nice evening, tccunnin!	9/22/2008 20:53
reb2	What externships/volunteering experiences are available? What public interest groups are in driving distance? Which ones (externships or public interest) are really popular?	9/22/2008 20:53
Student_Daniel	Good night, tccunnin!	9/22/2008 20:53
sanpine89	Thank you, Greeter_Natali!	9/22/2008 20:53
Alumni_Kerriel	The opportunities in the Va Bch area are numerous. ACLJ is probably the most "popular" because it's the nation's preeminent public interest firm. Therefore it's quite competitive; however, there are many others too, for example the National Legal Foundation.	9/22/2008 20:54
Career_Kathy	There are a lot to choose from from legal aid organizations, shelters, specific cause organizations, etc. There are a lot of public interest placements in the area.	9/22/2008 20:54
Prof_Boland	Probably Legal Aid is near the top of the list.	9/22/2008 20:55
Career_Kathy	You can complete an internship wherever you would like and it is based on your interests.	9/22/2008 20:55

sanpine89	I would love to take a tour, who will I have to contact?	9/22/2008 20:55
Greeter_Natali	Call Sarah at our Admissions Front Desk, 757-226-4584.	9/22/2008 20:55
Admissions_Bonnie	Sanpine, please give us a call at 757.226.4584 or lawschool@regent.edu	9/22/2008 20:55
Career_Kathy	We also offer public interest grants for those who work in public interest over the summer and we have an active group on campus called PILAR.	9/22/2008 20:55
Greeter_Natali	She can set you up with a campus tour, class visit, appointment with financial aid, etc.	9/22/2008 20:56
reb2	By the by, do you have any mediation/ADR clinics?	9/22/2008 20:56
reb2	...and, this is kind of random, but when alums come back, what do they say they missed?	9/22/2008 20:56
sanpine89	Wonderful! Thank you Kathy and Natali.	9/22/2008 20:56

Alumni_Kerriel	The School of Law provides opportunities for hands-on, student-client contact through its Litigation and Family Mediation clinics, which are open to second- and third-year students. The Litigation Clinic, which serves only low-income clients, handles landlord/tenant, consumer, selected domestic relations and administrative matters. Students, under the immediate supervision of an experienced attorney, have direct responsibility for handling cases from initial interviews to conclusion of representation. The Family Mediation Clinic trains students as third-party neutrals to mediate family-related cases. Students assist hurting parties to arrive at agreements that are fair, satisfying and durable. Further, if feasible, they help the parties explore reconciliation of their broken relationships. The law school values the clinical experience through which students learn transferable skills to enhance their ministry and lawyering capabilities.	9/22/2008 20:57
Prof_Boland	rebs: yes, we have a very strong clinical program.	9/22/2008 20:57
Admissions_Bonnie	Also, I urge you to look at our exciting, upcoming visitation programs on Oct 3 and Preview Weekend, Nov 6-8. Excellent speakers for both, including former US Attorney General, John Ashcroft and VA Supreme Court Chief Justice and also Jay Sekulow for our Preview Weekend.	9/22/2008 20:57
reb2	I'm working with a public interest group that helps provide representation for children; that sounds like a fantastic next step.	9/22/2008 20:57
Greeter_Natali	The ADR Board is also one of our student organizations.	9/22/2008 20:57

reb2	I'd love to do that but moot court tryouts are then!	9/22/2008 20:57
sanpine89	Do I have to contact Sarah for the Preview Weekend?	9/22/2008 20:58
Greeter_Natali	You can find more information at www.regent.edu/preview	9/22/2008 20:58
sanpine89	Thank you so much.	9/22/2008 20:58
sanpine89	I will definitely attend that.	9/22/2008 20:58
Greeter_Natali	There is a registration form on that website; Sarah can answer your questions but she'd probably end up referring you there.	9/22/2008 20:58
sanpine89	May I bring my family?	9/22/2008 20:59
Greeter_Natali	reb2, we will have other visitation opportunities on Jan. 16th, March 12-14, and May 15.	9/22/2008 20:59
Admissions_Bonnie	Spouses should definitely visit Regent. Taking on law school is a decision for both.	9/22/2008 20:59
Career_Kathy	Goodnight everyone! If you have any other career questions feel free to contact me directly at kathst3@regent.edu . I am happy to provide you with additional information.	9/22/2008 21:00
reb2	OK- sounds great! thank you for answering my questions!	9/22/2008 21:00
sanpine89	Thank you to everyone for answering my questions!	9/22/2008 21:00
Alumni_Kerriel	Bye Kathy!	9/22/2008 21:00
Alumni_Kerriel	See you at Homecoming!	9/22/2008 21:00
sanpine89	Good Night Kathy!	9/22/2008 21:01
Admissions_Bonnie	Thanks to everyone for participating tonight. Hope you enjoyed our time together. I did. Blessings all!	9/22/2008 21:01
Greeter_Natali	Thank you all again for coming tonight.	9/22/2008 21:01
Alumni_Cassy	It was great chatting with you all! Take care!	9/22/2008 21:01
FinAid_Missy	Bye everyone, have a great evening. Be blessed!	9/22/2008 21:01
FinAid_Tom	Bye all!	9/22/2008 21:01
Student_Daniel	Good night everyone!	9/22/2008 21:01

Greeter_Natali	Safe travels!	9/22/2008 21:01
Student_Christina	Good night!	9/22/2008 21:01
Alumni_Kerriel	Night!	9/22/2008 21:01
sanpine89	God bless you all! Good Night!	9/22/2008 21:01
Greeter_Natali	Good night!	9/22/2008 21:01
Greeter_Natali	Thanks for coming, tonight Dean Brauch!	9/22/2008 21:02
Greeter_Natali	hope you can get some rest now!!!	9/22/2008 21:02
Dean_Brauch	Sure thanks!	9/22/2008 21:02
Greeter_Natali	Have a great trip!	9/22/2008 21:03
Greeter_Natali	Good night to you as well.	9/22/2008 21:03
