The organization must have been first chartered within the last twelve months, or reactivated within the last twelve months, as recorded by the Office of Student Activities & Leadership.

How much money is available, and how often can organizations apply?

A limited amount of money is available and is considered on a case-by-case basis. Organizations can apply successfully once, per continuous period of active status. Reactivated organizations must have been inactive, as recorded by the Office of Student Activities & Leadership, for a period of at least 11 months.

How can student organizations apply?

Organizations must meet the criteria for eligibility, complete a SOFA application, and submit the application to the Student Leadership Committee. In addition, organizations must have an account with the Business Office in order to receive funding. Finally, organizations should apply for funding at least one month prior to their proposed time to use the funding.

How is an organization approved for funding?

The elected members of the College Student Leadership Board will review the organization’s application and vote on whether to approve the application. The College Student Leadership Board will communicate its decision to the organization’s contact person and its advisor. The College Student Leadership Board can deny any application for any reason, and its decision on whether to approve an application for funding is final.

If approved, how do student organizations receive funding?

The College Student Leadership Board will initiate a Transfer of Funds to deposit the approved amount directly into the organization’s account. An authorized person from the receiving organization must then sign the form. The College Student Leadership Board will submit the form to the Business Office. No funds will be distributed directly to students or advisors.

What happens if an application is not approved as submitted?

The College Student Leadership Board may approve a lesser amount of funding than was requested. The College Student Leadership Board Committee may also approve an application with additional requirements. In either case, the College Student Leadership Board will communicate its reasoning and/or requirements to the requesting organization. If an application is not approved, organizations are welcome to submit a revised application.

What else do applicants need to do?
Organizations receiving funds must submit a copy of the printed materials funded by SOFA. In addition, the organization must either submit a brief written account of the outcomes related to the funding received, or present a verbal summary to the College Student Leadership Board at its plenary session.
