

Financial Estimates

The financial estimates found on the links below are provided to assist nonimmigrant international students in budgeting finances for their studies at Regent University. These estimates are for one academic year only. It is the student's responsibility to provide sufficient funds for each year of study, without relying on employment. If a student's financial situation changes from that which is listed on the I-20 or DS-2019, the student must request a new I-20 or DS-2019 through the Office of International Student Services (OISS) with new financial documentation.

Students are allowed to work on-campus for a maximum of 20 hours per week while school is in session and full-time during academic break periods. Students are free to seek their own on-campus employment opportunities, but money earned from on-campus employment should be counted only as supplemental income for unexpected expenses. Regent's Office of Central Financial Aid has prepared a wonderful guide called "Money Saving Tips for International Students" that can be found on this page of their office website: <http://www.regent.edu/admin/financialaid/international.cfm>
