Curriculum, Instruction, & Assessment Certificate
• Consists of three classes (9 graduate credit hours)
• Addresses effective SOL instruction, differentiation, and achievement and evaluation.
• Transferable to the Master Teacher, M.Ed. program.
  ➢ Offered: Fall Semester 2007 · Classes begin 9/7

*Although these certificates may lead to state re-certification by satisfying the VDOE’s requirement for six credits to maintain an active teaching license, this is not a state approved certification program and does not provide a specialist endorsement.

Kagan Workshop
Brain-Based Learning
Startling new brain imaging techniques give us new windows into real-time brain functioning. For the first time we can actually view which parts of the brain are engaged as we use different instructional strategies. Through this technology and other advances in brain science, there is an emerging understanding of which teaching methods best align with how the brain best learns. Learn more about how the brain actually learns. Learn which instructional strategies are brain-friendly and which are not. Find teaching easier and far more effective, as you adopt proven brain-friendly structures!
  ➢ Offered: Saturday, 3/3 (8am-5pm)

Program Sampling
All Masters Level Courses
Professionals desiring renewal credits for teaching re-certification or wanting to preview a degree program, may enroll in any masters level course, as long as the course does not require a pre-requisite. Information can be found on-line at www.regent.edu/ccat.

Endorsements
