

Key Travel Policies At A Glance

Transportation

- When making travel arrangements for University business, staff and faculty should use the most economical means of travel. If a trip of considerable distance is required, and an employee elects to drive instead of fly, the amount up to the equivalent of the airline coach class fare will be reimbursed.
- For local travel, employees may reserve the University's Camry or use a personal vehicle and request mileage reimbursement through submission of an Expense Report and detailed mileage log.
- For out of the area travel, employees are encouraged to use a rental car versus driving a personal vehicle. If an employee elects to drive a personal vehicle, Regent will reimburse only the lesser of a car rental plus gas or the current mileage reimbursement rate.
- Rentals will not be considered for any travel where the conference or event is being held in or within reasonable walking distance of the hotel.
- The size of the rental car reserved should be up to a Midsize/Intermediate vehicle. No paid upgrades.
- Prepaid fuel charges and add-on GPS charges are not permitted.
- Automobile insurance fees should be waived as the traveler is covered by Regent's insurance when renting a vehicle for official University business.
- Please visit the Purchasing website to acquire our E&I Discount information when making a rental reservation: http://www.regent.edu/admin/admsrv/purchasing/travel_car.cfm

- Per diem should not be claimed when meals are provided through hospitality, conferences, etc.
- In the event an employee entertains for business purposes while traveling, a receipt must be submitted which also documents the people in attendance and the business purpose.

- The following schedule will help you identify when you should claim a per diem meal:

Dinner	5:00 pm	7:00 pm

- Hotel rates should not exceed the equivalent of Courtyard by Marriott, Hampton Inn, etc., except when necessitated for conventions and conferences where rooms are a part of the package.
