SCHOOL OF LAW

Honors Program

Regent Law's Honors Program provides exclusive academic and professional experiences to select entering students and those who have performed near the top of their first-year law school class. As an Honors Program student, you will take classes with other high-performing students and enjoy exceptional in-class engagement. Honors Program students enjoy meaningful opportunities for faculty mentorship, as well as greater curricular flexibility by having fewer required courses during the second and third year.

PROGRAM COMPONENTS

As a student in the J.D. Honors Program, you will:

Participate in an Honors-only section of the Foundations of Law course.

Enjoy a special Honors section of at least one of the other first-year common law doctrinal courses, such as Torts, Contracts, Property, and Civil Procedure.

Take select upper-level courses in small, Honors-only sections.

Meet with prominent speakers such as Supreme Court Associate Justice Elena Kagan; The Honorable Leslie H. Southwick, U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals; and Distinguished Professor of Law & Government and former U.S. Attorney General John Ashcroft.

Along with all Regent Law students, you also may:

Compete on award-winning Moot Court, Negotiation, and Trial Advocacy teams.

Gain experience through many externship and practical opportunities including internships with the Center for Global Justice.

Develop practical lawyering skills through a partnership with the American Center for Law and Justice (the nation's foremost public interest law firm defending religious liberties).

HONORS PROGRAM CLERKSHIP AND INTERNSHIP PLACEMENTS

Honors students have secured prestigious clerkships and internships at state appellate courts and trial courts, various U.S. Attorney's Offices, the U.S. Navy Judge Advocate General's Corps, the FBI, and private firms and organizations nationwide.

JASON RODRIGUEZ '16
Office of the Attorney General, Tallahassee, FL
"Honors students are given great flexibility in selecting the right courses for their legal careers and access to the Apprenticeship

Program. This program allows honors students to intern for up to 10 credit hours. Students spend time in law school practicing law and gaining vital real-world experience as they prepare to enter the challenging legal market."

ARIEL BRYANT '19
Clerk, Hon. Robert George Doumar, U.S. District Court, Eastern District, VA

"The intimate setting of the Honors Program provided time to deep dive into the law. Being able to forge and hone my critical thinking and knowledge of the law ultimately assisted me in securing a federal clerkship."

ANDREW BUTLER '16
Associate, Jones Day Law Firm, New York, NY

"Regent Law's Honors Program gives you what you should want out of law school. You want small classes. You want fellow students who challenge you to do your best. And you want the best professors. The Honors Program at Regent Law gives you these things. It's that simple."
