Degrees

B.A. in Law

This program is ideal for students who wish to pursue a career in a legal setting (e.g., lawyer, parole officer, case manager, court specialist, law clerk, legal mediator, court-appointed special advocate). You will gain a foundational understanding of law systems and legal processes. Plus, Regent's "3+3" program enables qualified B.A. in Law students to move into Juris Doctor studies after three years of undergraduate work—saving J.D. students both time and money.

Online | 120 Credit Hours

Full or Part Time | 6 Start Times per Year

M.A. in Law

This program is ideal for individuals desiring an advanced credential for competitive career opportunities but who do not want to practice law as an attorney. You will choose a concentration that fits your desired degree focus and career goal interests. Concentration courses build upon foundational studies in legal thought and writing skills but with specializations that set you up to advance in government, corporations, nonprofit organizations, and other professional settings.

Juris Doctor (J.D.)

Regent's Juris Doctor program equips capable men and women to serve as lawyers in various settings. You will focus on legal analysis, principled decision-making, problem-solving, and writing. You'll also be taught to practice law ethically and professionally with integrity and Christian values. For select entering students and those who performed near the top of their first-year law school class, we offer an exclusive academic J.D. Honors Program.

Gain knowledge of the law in areas such as torts, contracts, property, civil procedure, criminal law, constitutional law, and evidence.

Develop tools to practice law in any size law firm, as an international lawyer, or in public policy.

Prepare to take the bar examination upon completing your J.D. degree.

On Campus | 90 Credit Hours* | 3-Year, Part Time or Accelerated

*Take up to 30 credit hours online. ABA accredited.

LL.M. in American Legal Studies

This Master of Laws program is designed for graduates of accredited institutions outside the U.S. who hold a J.D.-equivalent law degree and want to pursue studies and broaden their knowledge in American law. You will enjoy standard courses in American law and corporate, commercial, and transactional law. You may also study constitutional law, public law, alternative dispute resolution, intellectual property law, family law, criminal law, and procedure.
